Notice to All States and Territories

Adoption of ICFRA Targets and Score Indication System

It would be appreciated if States and Territories could display the following information on their individual Web sites, and also forward via email to their individual shooting members so that it can be disseminated as widely as possible. These rules are effective immediately and it is worth noting that many States and Territories have been following this practice for some time. It will take some time to fully integrate the ICFRA Target Dimensions and the Scoring/Marking System, in the mean time please use the system described in the diagram below.

It will also be displayed on the NRAA Web site.

Thank You – Bob Pedersen – NRAA Rules Director

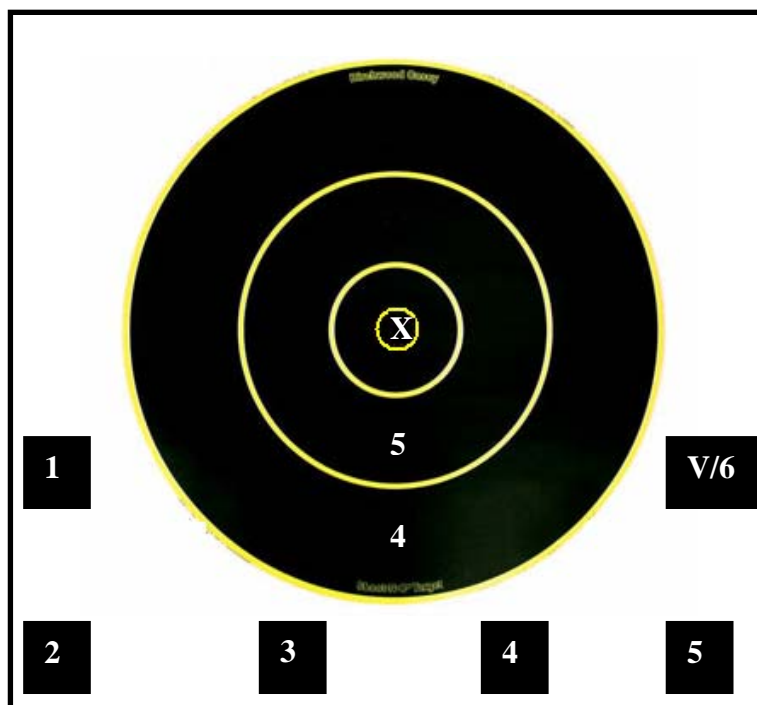

ICFRA Scoring System

The NRAA has approved the adoption of a modified version of indicating scores on ICFRA targets. ICFRA Targets have been now universally adopted and approved, and a modified version of indicating scores which incorporates Super V's has been approved, effective immediately as from 1st March 2011. For a full description of the system please visit the NRAA web site. The system was trialled very successfully at the 2010 QRA and NRAA Queens Prize meetings.

Some States have already been using the system and all are encouraged to adopt it as soon as practical, for the sake of national consistency. Separate fliers of explaining the system have also been attached in both Word and Adobe formats. States might wish to post these out to individual shooters and members so that the decision is widely advertised.

Please see the NRAA web site as well.

A description has been placed below.
