The Queensland Rifle Association

The Queensland Rifle Association (QRA) was first formed in 1863 and reformed in 1877 to provide marksmanship training to citizens in the interest of the defence of the Colony. Many Clubs can trace their origins back to early colonial times so that we can truly claim to be the oldest organised sport in Australia. The QRA is affiliated with the National Rifle Association of Australia (NRAA). Membership and active participation in a rifle club offers firearms owners a safe and convenient venue for their use and a genuine reason to hold a Licence.

The Queensland Shooting Club

The Queensland Shooting Club (QSC) is designed for members who are not actively competing but still wish to maintain membership of an approved rifle club.

Firearms Licence Safety Training Courses

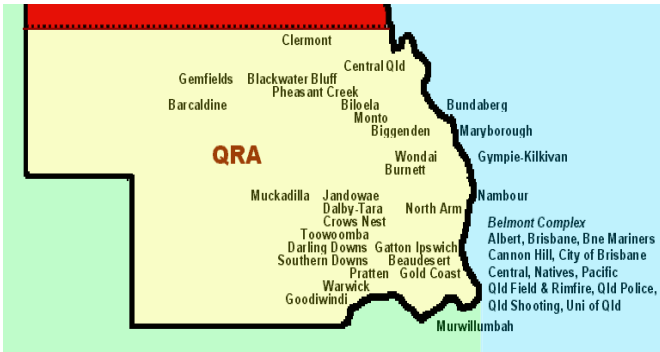

The QRA regularly runs VET Approved Safety Training Courses which eligible persons must complete before applying for a Queensland Firearms Licence.

Eligibility

Shooting is open to men and women and Queensland law designates that a person using a rifle must be a minimum of 11 years of age. Adults 18 years and over must meet certain criteria to be eligible for a Queensland Licence.

Clubs

QRA Clubs operate around the state. QSC members are eligible to shoot on approved ranges but are not eligible for NRAA Competitions. Contact the office for details.
